If you're not laughing, you don't have a pulse.

Who am I and why am I doing Comedy?

Doc has become my title for funny. The name simply started from my initials being M.D. I truly believe that laughter is the best medicine and many people don't have it in their lives. Children should always have the chance to be happy and to laugh. I became a C.A.S.A. and I am a dedicated contributor to C.A.S.A. (Court Appointed Special Advocates) to help fight against child abuse and neglect. My home state is Arkansas and I love it here. I love comedy so much that I founded and sponsor shows / platforms for showcasing local veterans, upcoming comedians including myself. The shows provide more stage time and exposure for local headliners, feature acts and open mic spots. I also plan to coordinate and produce future events for fundraising, awareness, contests, etc...

What style of Comedy do I do?

I strive to deliver entertaining comedy for the most diverse of crowds. My performances include both clean to not so clean material. The performances comprise ratings from G to R. I can make it diverse enough for family to adult only shows. I do some impersonations, voices, gags, story jokes on life's events, crowd interaction and general slapstick. I have been told that I was one of the most animated performers they have seen similar to a mix between Jimmy Carey, Robin Williams and Steve Martin.

How long have I been doing Comedy?

I started comedy several years ago as a hobby, because I enjoy making people laugh. I placed 5th out of 22 comedians for my first open mic contest and achieved the title of 'Branson Comedy Festival All-Star' for my 2nd contest in 2007. I plan to continue with competitions, contests and festivals. I've performed at numerous private parties which I greatly enjoy and plan to continue. I would like to be taken under the wing of a veteran comic to learn more about comedy. I am always open to suggestions and comments about what and how I do what I do.

If you're not laughing, you don't have a pulse.

I am willing to go wherever I can make people laugh. I would love the opportunity to go over seas to our troops and bring a smile and laugh to their faces as well. Providing the opportunity for a soldier or anyone for that matter to be able to get their minds off daily stress is what I do, which means corporate events also.

What types of events will I perform at?

With the diverse comedy style that I perform, I can perform at any club, entertainment halls, churches, corporate events, fundraisers, festivals, parties, or colleges.

What kind of extra stuff do I do?

In my past, I studied martial arts, the style of Shotokan. I was in the United States Navy as an Airman aka tail hook. My main interests now are golf, scuba diving, comedy, fishing and spear fishing. I am a certified project manager and a vice president of a local chapter of Project Management Institute. I'm member of the Little Rock Chamber of Commerce. I own a small business for hosting and designing websites. I enjoy traveling, both local and abroad. One of my biggest interests I have is volunteering for child assistance programs and events. I also educate parents and children on how to be 'Internet Safe'.
