Tommy Kelley is rapidly becoming a crowd favorite all across the United States.

Between the twang in his voice and the smile on his face he leaves the audience wanting more. His comedy has been described as a combination of hillbilly and redneck with just a touch of hick. He is a hard working comedian with Arkansas roots and a Bible belt background. He can currently be found around campfires and in smoky bars all over the country. Don't miss a chance to see this raising star or rather annoying drunk hillbilly redneck. Y'all come on down and see him now. You hear!!!
